8	The illustrations on this page depict a car driving on a road. There are signs reading: "NO JEWS," "WHITES ONLY," "NO MEXICANS," "NO COLORED," "WHITE ONLY." See Figure 1.
19	When they did get jobs, they earned less than men.
36	The college said that allowing girls to attend VMI would "destroy" the school.

This is how it was in those days: hotels, restaurants, even entire neighborhoods announcing,

Ruth and her family were Jewish. This was prejudice, pure and simple.

Now it was Ruth's turn to disagree.

She disagreed by never forgetting how it felt to read such words.

She never forgot the sting of prejudice.
